

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY

Office of the President

June 11, 2018

Dear Faculty and Staff,

In our continuing effort to support a strong and positive safety culture for our research and teaching laboratories, Texas Tech University has reviewed and updated the Laboratory Safety Manual for 2018. This update was coordinated by the Institutional Laboratory Safety Committee, the Department of Environmental Health and Safety, and individual academic departments. I would like to personally thank the members of the committee for their service and invite the Texas Tech community to explore and use this important document.
