Dear Texas Tech Students,

I would like to make you aware of a unique educational opportunity.

Chancellor Emeritus Kent Hance will once again share his life experiences and introduce exceptional guest speakers in his leadership class. If students want to succeed in the business world or be a CEO, then why not learn firsthand from current executives? This one hour, pass/fail class gives students advice and tips on how to succeed in life. All undergraduates are welcome. Just a few of the topics covered in class are:

- Time Management
- Problem Solving
- Negotiating and Networking
- Money Matters
- Stress Management

Some of the past guest speakers for the class:

- Rex Tillerson, CEO and Chairman of ExxonMobil
- Randall Stephenson, CEO of AT&T
- Former Texas Gov. Rick Perry
- Linda Rutherford, Senior VP, Chief Communications Officer, Southwest Airlines
- Former New Mexico Gov. Susana Martinez

The proposed speakers for this Spring will include the following:

- Ginger Kerrick - Board of Regents and NASA Flight Director
- Senator Bob Kerrey - Former Senator, Nebraska
- Linda Rutherford - Senior Vice President, Southwest Airlines
- Trevor Rees-Jones - Founder/Chairman, Chief Oil and Gas
- David Arrington - Founder/CEO, Arrington Oil and Gas

Read what head basketball Coach Chris Beard says: "This is a great class and every student should take it. It will help you tremendously."

The class will be held in the Rawls College of Business on Mondays from 1-1:50 p.m. in Room BA 105.

The course is labeled BA 4100 Strengths-Based Senior Seminar (Section 001, CRN 56763). Should you have questions, please contact teaching assistant Logan Dorsett at logan.dorsett@ttu.edu.

Sincerely,

Lawrence Schovanec
President
