RE: President's Select Applications and Selection – Fall 2018

President's Select ambassadors serve the university in many ways and are often the first interaction visitors and prospective students have with Texas Tech University. Among the most recognized organizations on campus, these students play an important role in the university's perception.

Applications are now being accepted for current undergraduate students to join President's Select, and I ask you to encourage outstanding students to apply for membership. Through their participation in this important organization, students gain valuable skills in communication, decision making, and leadership, all of which will benefit them in their futures.

We appreciate you taking the time to share this opportunity with students you feel are qualified, and thank you for your assistance.

The deadline for application is noon on Monday, September 17, 2018.
