Dear Red Raiders,

This week we turn our attention to on-campus living and our plans to create a safe residence hall environment for you this fall. For first-year students, we encourage you to read over this information carefully and contact University Student Housing with any additional questions that you might have.

Overall, we have reduced the density of the residence halls, implemented additional cleaning procedures and will be temporarily limiting the number of visitors. Additionally, we have extended our move-in dates and have created an online reservation system to help alleviate crowding and promote proper social distancing practices.

If you have additional questions about our campus reopening plans, I encourage you to visit our Texas Tech Commitment website.
